POLITICAL NEWS.

Senator Osborne Arrested for Alleged Illegal Registration.

The Situation as it Appears From the Statements and Claims of Both Great Political Parties.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—State Senator Osborn, of Poughkeepsie, having learned that a warrant had been issued for his arrest at the instance of Assistant District Attorney Mott, on the affidavit of a hotelkeeper named H. N. Bain, appeared before Commissioner Shields this morning and surrendered himself. Lawyer Abraham Rose argued that Senator Osborne has been a resident and voter from the same district for forty years, and that the case was analogous to that of Thomas Platt. The decision was then made that he was entitled to vote in Tioga county and that the fact of his being in Albany attending to his official duties did not interfere with his rights as a voter at his home. The senator was admitted to bail in $1,500 to appear on November 14. Frank Lowne, of Poughkeepsie, became surety for the amount. The arrest was made on the charge that Senator Osborne was not entitled to register in the second election district. It was claimed that he had become a resident of Albany and not of Poughkeepsie.

THREE PARTIES CLAIM WASHINGTON.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 7.—Democrats, republicans and populists are equally sanguine of carrying Washington on the presidential ticket, but the chances are slightly in favor of the republicans. There are 62,000 votes to be cast and probably 50,000 will be polled. The prohibitionists add to the uncertainty created by the people's party with regard to the general result, but neither really stand any chance. While the prohibitionists claim 10,000 votes, they will fall far short of it. The populists again claim over 20,000, but will do exceedingly well if they get one-half of that. If the populists and prohibitionists cut into the republicans more than the democrats, as claimed, on state issues, the probabilities are in favor of Shiveley (democrat) being elected governor; otherwise, McGraw (republican) will be elected. As to the national result most of the expressed predictions favor Cleveland.

THE SITUATION IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 7.—While there is a perfect election fever in the northeast and west, it is as quiet as if there were no elections ever known in South Carolina. No one seems to know, care or think anything about South Carolina politics and the only interest here is in the result in other states. There is practically no fear of any other party stirring in and capturing the electoral vote from the democrats. The republicans have been suspiciously quiet and may be reserving all of their energies until the election day with a view to "swooping down" upon the napping democrats and surprising them. The United States marshal has appointed deputies for all the city polling places, but this has been done in every election since the reconstruction period and it makes no sensation to speak of. The only element of doubt that exists in the election tomorrow is the printing of the democratic ballots. It is said that it is only the presidential electoral tickets that are of illegal size, the state tickets being of the regulation pattern and this would seem to give color to the rumors of bad faith on the part of the alliance men who control the democratic machine. Most of the county chairmen have been warned, and if they desire to do so, this fault can be remedied, but then on the part of most of the county chairmen the alliance men, too, and it is doubtful if they will correct the mistake unless State Chairman Irby orders them to do so. According to the best information obtainable the vote of the state for president will stand about this way: Cleveland, 70,000; Harrison, 20,000; Weaver, 1,000 to 2,000. These figures may vary, but they represent about the voting strength of the parties in this state today. Indications all point to the election of five Alliance and two democratic congressmen.

GENERAL MILLER TALKS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Attorney General Miller has returned to Washington from Indiana. He said this morning that there was nothing now concerning the enforcement of the election law and that he did not expect trouble, as he had great faith in the good sense of the people. He said that the official action of Acting Attorney General Aldrich during the last few days regarding the election law met with his hearty approval.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

George Thomas Meets Death by His Own Carelessness.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 7.—George Thomas, aged twenty-eight, and John Maher, thirty-nine years old, both of this city, were out hunting for meadow larks early yesterday morning. While Thomas was in the act of placing a shell in his breech loading gun, the latter dropped and Maher, in stooping to pick it up, struck the gun, which went off, the charge of the weapon entering his right side. Before assistance could reach him he was dead.

THE GIRLS ARE ALL RIGHT.

In This Costume They Can Splash Around Just Like the Boys.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 7.—During the prevalent rainy weather dozens of the college girls have appeared on the streets in the Jenness-Miller "rainy-day dress." The skirts are plain and tight fitting, but the striking feature is that it reaches only about half way from the knee to the ankle. To make up for this gap the girls wear long gaiters, and can now splash through the mud just as the boys. They have been threatening to adopt this suit ever since Mrs. Jenness-Miller lectured here last summer.

SEVERE STORMS

Prevail for Over a Week on the Atlantic Ocean.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Vessels arriving at Queenstown report that the weather on the Atlantic continues to be very stormy. The gales blow with a fury not often witnessed over at this time of the year, and even the largest steamers are impeded by the mountainous waves. The Arizona, which left New York on October 29, reports one of the most stormy passages that she has ever encountered. Almost from the day of starting the weather was terrible and the steamer made way only with the greatest difficulty. At times it seemed as if the great avalanche of water would crush the vessel beneath its sea and vast waves swept with terrible force from one side of the deck to the other. On Tuesday last a passenger named Walker Ruby got caught in one of these volumes of water, and being unable to resist its fury or to catch hold of anything, he was swept overboard. Notwithstanding the storm, the steamer was delayed for some time to attempt to rescue the man, but he never came to the surface. The last seen of him was when he was washed overboard, entirely helpless, and trying to gasp out something he was unable to utter. The accident caused much gloom among the passengers and they were extremely careful thereafter about getting on deck.

ONEIDA, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Furious storms have been raging during the past week over the Black sea. Eight vessels have been lost and the crews of three steamers drowned. Such stormy weather has not been seen on the Black sea for many months and much distress has been occasioned among sailors and fishermen, both on account of the loss of life and the number of vessels afraid to venture out to sea.

OVERDUE STEAMERS.

Some of Them Reported, While Others Are Still Missing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Trans-Atlantic steamers continue to arrive considerably overdue. The French liner Bretagne, from Havre, sighted at Fire Island at 9:02 this morning, is a day late. Nothing further has been ascertained regarding the National line steamer England, now eight days overdue, although she was seen off Fire Island on Saturday by the City of Montezuma. No signals were exchanged, notwithstanding she was apparently disabled. The sea tug Luckenbach was sent out Saturday to search for her. It is probable she has drifted out of the course of in-coming vessels. The England is a freighter and has no passengers aboard except a dozen returning cattlemen.

ALL SOULS DAY.

Thousands of People in Cincinnati Observe the Day.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7.—Twenty thousand persons kneeled at the graves of their dear departed in earnest prayer, with clasped hands and faces uplifted hopefully toward Heaven. This awe-inspiring scene was enacted at the old German St. Joseph's Catholic cemetery. Further out on Price hill 5,000 mourners were assembled. Also at Calvary Catholic seminary on Walnut Hills and at St. Mary's Catholic seminary at St. Bernard, were over 10,000 mourners kneeling in prayer at the graves. Altogether, over 25,000 people visited the Catholic cemeteries of this city yesterday. The occasion was the celebration of All Souls Day, which occurred last Wednesday. It is devoted to the dead and observed by prayers for the release of souls from purgatory.

McNagny Will Close the Campaign.

Hon. W. F. McNagny will address the citizens of the Sixth, Seventh and Tenth wards at Poff's hall this evening. There will be a parade of democratic clubs previous to the speaking. This will be the closing speech of the campaign.

Death of a Congressman.

PARIS, Mo., Nov. 7.—Hon. A. M. Alexander died here this morning. He was a member of the Forty-seventh congress.

An Actor's Story.

(From the Sunday Gazette.)

The lion-faced woman will be at the Museum all this week. She is the highest priced curiosity Mr. Geary has had in his house since he had the cannibal man there. The leading member of the "Lost Paradise" company, while talking to a Gazette reporter in the Aldine hotel yesterday afternoon, noticed Geary's wagon, advertising the lion-faced woman, go by. "Why," exclaimed the actor, "is the lion-faced woman coming here? She is one of the greatest curiosities in the world to-day. I saw her exhibited in a first class museum in New York city, and she was the star attraction there. The lion face is genuine and a crowd constantly stands around her. Mr. Geary must be running a show that is away up to put on attractions like the lion-faced woman."

Colonel Geary will give a special show at 10 o'clock Tuesday night. Election returns will be read from the stage on that evening every ten minutes. Mr. Geary is doing all he can this year to amuse the public in a legitimate way.

The P. O. of A. hold an important meeting this evening.

BLOODSHED FEARED

At the Polls in Kansas City Tomorrow.

Police Officers Ordered to Arrest Federal Deputies—Citizens Asked to Help Preserve Peace.

KANSAS, CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—The events of yesterday have materially increased the prospects of bloodshed next Tuesday. The firm determination of the republican authorities to place the federal deputy marshals inside the voting booths on election day has aroused the democracy. It will be met with an equally firm determination on the part of the democratic county and city authorities to resist federal interference. No federal supervisor has been appointed here, and on this and Judge Brewer's decision that the deputies could not legally occupy the voting booths the democrats base their resistance to the presence of federal deputies in the voting places. Chairman Middlebrook, of the republican county committee, called a meeting of the republican judges and clerks of election and instructed them to allow the federal deputies to be present and urged that force be employed if necessary. Recorder of Votes Owsley will today instruct all the judges and clerks that the deputies have no rights beyond those of ordinary officers as to presence in the place of voting. The board of police commissioners has given instructions to the police to arrest federal deputies and has issued a call to one hundred and seventy of the most prominent citizens of the city inviting them to volunteer their services on election day to preserve the peace.

LADY ASSAULTED.

William Cochrel Attempts an Assault on Miss Dr. Hayes, of Indianapolis —She is Arrested.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—About 4 o'clock yesterday morning Miss Dr. Hayes, a prominent young physician in the northwest part of the city, living 501 Northwest street, was accosted by a man who insisted upon her going with him at once to attend his wife, who was very ill. The man offered to wait and accompany the doctor and, after hesitation she consented and they started for the man's home. When at the mouth of an alley, leading from Tennessee street, the man suddenly grabbed Miss Hays and dragged her into the alley. He was on the point of assaulting her when her screams brought assistance and the man was frightened away, but not before Miss Hays was choked almost into insensibility. William Cochrel, a carpenter was last night arrested by Detective Thornton, and was afterwards identified by Dr. Hays. Cochrel denies the charge.

THE RESULT OF A DREAM.

A Catholic Priest Renounces His Faith to Become a Methodist.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 7.—As the result of a strange dream, Rev. Charles Kolin, a Catholic priest, has renounced Catholicism and joined the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, of this city. When Rev. S. H. Werlein requested those who wished to join the church to come forward, a tall, scholarly looking gentleman, about twenty-four years of age, slowly went forward. Dr. Werlein took him by the hand, and, turning to his congregation, said: "Brethren, this is Mr. Charles Kolin, a former Roman Catholic priest, who has given up that creed and now asks to be admitted to membership in the Centenary church." He then turned to the priest and requested him to speak a few words to the audience.

Father Kolin then told the story of his change of faith. He said: "About a year ago I had a dream which turned my waking thoughts into a channel whence I could not divert them. In my sleep I dreamed that I was lost in a deep cave as dark as the shades of night. A few straggling rays of light filtered through the opening in the distance, but I strayed further and further from the light until I was shrouded in utter blackness. Then, with a mighty effort, I lifted myself from the bottom of the cave and came to the surface and to the light."

Father Kolin said that his dream was to him a parable which he interpreted to mean his own condition and his subsequent change of faith. When the former priest had completed his remarks many of the audience went forward and shook hands with him. It was decided to admit Father Kolin.

TRIED TO SAVE HIS WIFE.

But She Was Instantly Killed and He Fatally Injured.

CORNING, N. Y., Nov. 7.—The Rev. J. C. Bradbury, a retired Methodist minister, was crossing the Erie railroad at Painter Post in company with his wife, when in some manner Mrs. Bradbury's feet were caught in the rail. While her husband was assisting in extricating her an express train came along and struck them both. Mrs. Bradbury was instantly killed. Her body was terribly mangled. Mr. Bradbury was badly injured, and the shock and injuries combined may cause death. Both were over seventy years of age.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Gives Wholesome Advice to His Audience in a Sermon.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 7.—Cardinal Gibbons preached at the morning services at the Cathedral yesterday. The church was crowded. The sermon was from the gospel of the day, and his text was: "Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and to God the things that are God's."

The cardinal took occasion to speak of the approaching election, and the obligation of each citizen to exercise his right of suffrage. He urged all to show their zeal for the welfare of the country by voting for men with clean hands and hearts who were above the taint of corruption, and who are conspicuous for integrity of character.

THE BIG STRIKE.

Its Effects are Becoming Apparent in New Orleans.

Street Cars Have Ceased Running and Little Business Being—The Principals Struck This Morning.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7.—The effects of the strike are more apparent this morning than at any time since the trouble commenced. There are but few floats or drays to be seen on the streets, but the small spring wagons come in very general use. There are no street cars running, consequently merchants and clerks are not reaching their places of business as early as usual. Up to this hour (10 a. m.) the city is remarkably quiet and but little business is being done. At 7a. m. the printers struck work and the outlook for the morning papers is not bright, though they will make an effort to get out editions tomorrow. The Daily States, being a non-union office, will publish as usual this afternoon.

A CASE OF SUICIDE.

An Aged Woman Purposely Steps in Front of an Engine.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 7.—A woman was killed yesterday morning by an incoming passenger train on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad under circumstances which seem to indicate a most dreadful form of suicide. As the train came in at a thirty-mile-an-hour rate, the woman walked upon the track, and paying no attention to the warning whistles, she stood still until she was struck by the pilot. The train did not move a mile past, a distance of thirty-five feet. Her neck, back, shoulders and several ribs were broken and several minor injuries inflicted. In her hand she had a bunch of chrysanthemum, which she clasped in her death grip. She was apparently fifty years of age and poorly clad. The coroner's jury exonerated the railroad company.

NEFARIOUS WORK

Being Practiced by a Fugitive From Justice in the Interest of the U. O. P.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The World this morning says: "David L. Bibiler, the Union gambler and political thug, for whose apprehension a reward of $2,500 has been offered by Governor Flower, has been acting as an accredited agent of the republican party in shipping negroes from Tennessee into West Virginia, Virginia and New Jersey to vote the republican ticket. Bibiler's employer is Chairman Charles W. Haskett, of "Block of nine" and "Confidential circular" fame. The World prints a fac-simile of a letter alleged to be written by Bibiler to a Utica saloon keeper named Joseph Frick, in which the writer goes into details regarding his nefarious work.

A YOUNG MURDERER.

He Deliberately Sends a Bullet Into a Playmate.

CARTERET, N. J., Nov. 7.—Several boys were playing with a revolver yesterday evening. Charles Jordott shot and killed one of his play fellows, John Andreas. There was no motive for the deed. The Andreas boy held his hat over his heart and asked Jordott if he could hit it. He fired, killing Andreas instantly.

A FIERCE BLIZZARD.

Not for Years Has One so Severe Visited Manitoba.

MANITOBA, MIDD., Nov. 7.—A fierce, though by no means a cold, blizzard raged here all day yesterday, making the streets almost impassable. Trains have been badly delayed. Not for many years has so fierce a storm been experienced here so early in the season.

Five Negroes Shot.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 7.—Five negroes were shot at a ball Saturday night and will probably die. The affray occured at a dance on Berry's plantation, six miles from the city. A gang of men who had not been invited to the ball went there to get even with those who were. A pitched battle ensued in which five men were fatally wounded.

Small Pox in Seattle and Tacoma.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 7.—Tacoma, as well as this city, has small pox. One case developed Saturday, another yesterday morning and a third last night. A rigid quarantine has been established and all bedding used in the lodging houses and infected with the disease have been burned. The situation in Seattle is not encouraging.

Father Mollinger's Heirs.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 7.—Fred and F. P. A. Mollinger, heirs of the late Father Mollinger, say they are going to sell the relics owned by their uncle. The members of the church claim the property, as do the heirs, and the matter will probably be referred to the courts.

Fast Miles Paced.

SAN FRANCIO, Nov. 7.—At Santa Ana Saturday the fastest miles ever paced west of the Mississippi was made by Silkwood, the California stallion, who covered it in 2:03½. His sire is Blackwood, Mambrino, dam Lucy Woodruff.

A WAGER.

The Tippecanoe Republican Club Sends a Challenge to the Hendricks Democratic Club.

Yesterday afternoon the Tippecanoe club held a meeting in the Morton club rooms and talked over the situation. They also outlined work for today and tomorrow. An address was made by A. J. You. At the meeting it was also decided to issue the following challenge: "If Harrison is elected the Hendricks club is to join with the Tippecanoes in the grand celebration and march immediately behind them on the principal streets of the city. If Cleveland is elected the Tippecanoes will march immediately behind the Hendricks club. The secretary of the Tippecanoes was instructed to correspond with the secretary of the Hendricks club and state the challenge."

An officer of the Hendricks club this morning stated that the club would under no consideration accept such a wager, as it was beneath their dignity.

LOCAL LINES.

The Lutherans are thinking of erecting a fine school building in Bloomingdale.

The Short club were up the river yesterday and bagged thirty-five quail and caught seventy-five bass and shad.

The prohibition meeting at the circuit court room this evening will be addressed by Revs. Ainslie, Updike and Eldridge and Dr. Read, of the Taylor university. The audience will have an opportunity to see the effects of the diabolical(?) attempt to burn the poor old court house.

The following bets were this morning posted up in the Randall hotel: One hundred dollars to $90 that New York goes democratic, $100 to $100 that Cleveland is elected, $100 to $75 that Indiana goes democratic, $10 to $10 that Cleveland has 4,000 plurality in Indiana and $10 to $7 that Cleveland carries Indiana.

The Decatur Democrat says: "Fred C. Boltz, John Mungen, Christ Entoman and the only Gart Shober on earth were very conspicious persons in the Hendricks club, of Fort Wayne, as they marched on our streets Thursday night.—The Hendricks club, of Fort Wayne, arrived on a special train. They numbered 300 strong. They are a fine looking body of men."

The Warsaw Times says: "Our old friend, Aaron Lischy, formerly well known to the people of this county, met with an accident in falling from a wagon near the city of Fort Wayne yesterday by which his left arm was broken. While we are sorry for Aaron, his good right arm is spared to cast one more republican ballot, and we hope to hear of his getting better rapidly."

Election bribers should remember these important facts: In addition to very severe penalties prescribed for violations of the election law, every voter they bribe has the right of civil action against them, and can sue and recover $300 from the person who induces them to commit the crime of vote selling. It will require great cautiousness or great recklessness to buy votes in November.

A very pleasant surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. William Zollinger Saturday evening at their home, on Brand avenue. The guests enjoyed the dancing and various games exceedingly. Those present were: Misses Minnie, Clara and Anna Zollinger, Kate Mary, Bessie and Maggie Waldermath, Minnie and Lizzie Wiehe, and Messrs. G. and Ed Zollinger, Christ Schaper, J. Adams, N. Pranger, P. Hintman, H. Reichart and several others.

James R. McGregor, representing Nelson, Mater & Co., and W. H. Gay, representing Barkey & Gay, both large furniture firms in Grand Rapids, are in the city today, conferring with the furniture committee of the Wayne club. I. B. Norton, representing Conant Brothers, of Toledo, is also here to talk with the committee. The club will shortly make a large purchase of fine furniture for their new building and are negotiating to their best advantage.

Christ's English Lutheran church, of the general synod, held their first services yesterday in their new quarters, the reading room of the Y. M. C. A. Next Sunday the congregation expect to complete their organization, at which time, also, the entire number forming the organization will be received into the fellowship and communion of this church by baptism, letter or otherwise. Rev. L. A. Gotwald, D. D., of Wittenberg theological seminary, Springfield, Ohio, will be present and, with others, assist Pastor Nelson on this interesting occasion. In the evening an organization of Y. P. S. C. E. will be effected. Reverend Nelson will also be publicly installed pastor of this church. The public are most cordially invited to all of these services.

SEVEN titled women hold the rank of colonel in the Prussian military establishment. None of them, as far as known, have much of a reputation as strapers, but on dress parade they could present as natty an appearance as any ten-year-old prince in the service, and would know what to do with him if he acted uneasy while on duty.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Mary McMillen and family wish to extend thanks to their neighbors and friends, and especially members of the I. O. O. F., for kindness shown them during the illness and death of a husband and father.

A PICKPOCKET.

He Will Evidently Go Over the Road.

Ex-County Commissioner John Brannon Grabbed Him During the Parade on Saturday Evening.

On Saturday evening during the democratic parade John Brannon, ex-county commissioner, was standing on Calhoun street near the corner of Berry. He was in a jam of people and the crowd was squeezed into a smaller space by a passing street car. Just at that moment Mr. Brannon felt some one push up against him and a hand was thrust into his trouser pocket. He felt for his watch thinking some one was after it and turning quickly saw a stranger edging out of the crowd in haste. Brannon made for the fellow and caught him by a firm grasp. Just as he did so he saw the man pass something to a pal. The ex-commissioner held on with a death grip until Officer Harkenrider, who had been notified, came up and took the fellow in custody. Mr. Brannon then felt for his pocket book, which contained the sum of $25, and found that it was missing. The pickpocket was searched, but no trace of the pocketbook could be found. The fellow was hustled off to the police headquarters. Yesterday two tough looking characters called at the station and wished to see him, but Officer Lapp refused to allow them to enter.

In police court this morning the fellow gave his name as David Anderson and plead not guilty. He said that his home was in Chicago and that he had come to Fort Wayne a day or so ago to see a man—he couldn't remember who he came to see or what he wanted to see him for. He said that his home in Chicago was at No. 348 West Van Buren street and that he had lived there for the past seven months. He said that he had lived in Chicago for thirteen years and was married. He claimed to have some cousins in this county and said that he was a brakeman in the employ of the Kansas City and St. Paul railroad. He claimed to have been born in St. Paul and that his mother resided in that city.

Mr. Brannon and Officer Harkenrider were the only witnesses. His honor thought the fellow's account of himself entirely inadequate and bound him over to the court in the sum of $1,000. He was taken to jail. Anderson, as the fellow calls himself, has all of the appearance of a genuine crook and hardened criminal.

It is more than likely that he and some confederates worked the town Saturday evening, picking pockets. Mr. Koenig was one of their victims, and lost his pocket book containing a small sum, and Mrs. Hill was another lady whose pocket was picked.

Mrs. L. H. Sherbondy, of No. 144, West DeWald street, is another victim of the light-fingered gentry. While this lady was watching the parade Saturday night from the sidewalk at the corner of Calhoun and Berry streets, her pocketbook was taken by some thief. She did not miss the purse until the procession had passed and she was about to return home. When she discovered its loss she recalled to mind the strange actions of a well dressed young man who crowded himself between Mrs. Sherbondy and her companion, with the remark: "Excuse me, ladies, I want to reach the street," when the crowd was not so dense as to prevent him going around the ladies. This man was undoubtedly the thief. Mrs. Sherbondy describes her pocketbook as being of ordinary red leather afair. In it were two silver dollars, a five-dollar paper bill, some small change and a number of notes, receipts and other papers of much value to the owner, but worthless to anyone else. Anyone finding the papers will please return them. The money, Mrs. Sherbondy says, she does not expect to see again, but the thief may have dropped the pocketbook and papers where they will be found.

OTHER CASES.

Mary Carey was up for drunkenness. She is an old offender, and was around town yesterday trying to sell sorrow by draining empty beer kegs. She was fined $1 and costs, and went to jail.

George and John Loom were up for drunkenness and associating with prostitutes. They were found in a house on East Jefferson street, which was pulled by Officer Richter. Two doves, known as the Bryan sisters were brought along with them. Their case was continued until Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, and all four released on their own recognizance.

The anti-election excitement is visible in the court house and justice courts, and no business of importance is being transacted. The superior court is not in session and Judge O'Rourke is hearing only motions and demurrers in the circuit court.

Mary M. Laible brings suit against George Laible for divorce. W. P. Breen is plaintiff's attorney.

The following marriage licenses have been granted: Eli Gerig and Caroline Souder, Charles M. C. Straub and Emma Jackson, Robert M. Berrick and Alice E. Rowes, Sherman Rickhart and Annie H. Nuttle, Bernal B. Evans and Margaret Ann Mitchell.

The supreme court of Indiana holds that a passenger upon a railway train has a right to confidentially rely upon the care and watchfulness of the carrier to make all things safe for his transportation with its necessary incidents. While passively submitting himself to its care during the journey, leaving the cars in the usual place and ordinary time and manner, he is not to be deemed guilty of negligence unless knowledge of a defect or peril is thrust upon him and he then fails to use ordinary care to avoid injury.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Funeral of Henry C. Johnson to be Held Tomorrow—Other Deaths.

The funeral of the late J. B. McMillan yesterday afternoon was largely attended. Harmony Lodge, No. 19, I. O. O. F., attended in a body, escorted by the First Regiment band. The Rev. Boggs officiated. The floral offerings were very appropriate.

Henry C. Johnson died at the residence of his son-in-law, F. E. Nash, No. 173 Griffith street, on Saturday night at the advanced age of eighty years. Deceased has resided in Fort Wayne for the past few years but most of his life time has been spent at Burlington, Vt. He was the grandson of the first governor of Vermont, Governor Chatten. He leaves one son, Commander Henry L. Johnson, at present on duty in the Behring sea, and one daughter, Mrs. F. E. Nash, of this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the house at 2 o'clock. Rev. Northrop officiating.

Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Madden, of No. 126 West Williams street, died yesterday morning of diphtheria. The funeral was held privately from the house at 1:30 p. m. today.

Francis E. Farrant died this morning at 3 o'clock at his home, No. 140 Walton avenue, of consumption. Deceased was aged fifty-five years and was well known in this city. He leaves a wife and a family of children, all of whom are grown. The funeral will be held on Thursday at 9:30 o'clock from the Cathedral.

The funeral of Joseph Monmer, sr., was held this morning from the St. Catholic church at Academie. It was largely attended.

The funeral of Christian Nietert, who died Saturday was held this afternoon at 2 p. m. at the residence of Henry Busking, at No. 90 Hanna street. Rev. Schoof officiated.

A GREAT TIME.

Saturday Evening's Rally Was a Great Success.

Fort Wayne was alive with enthusiasm on Saturday evening and the last democratic rally of the campaign was a grand success. Early in the evening large crowds began to throng the streets and sidewalks. Col. C. A. Murr son was grand marshal of the parade, and he was ably assisted by Gottlieb Haller, M. V. B. Spencer, Fred Myers and George P. Gordon. The procession marched up Calhoun street, headed by the City band, and turned west on Berry street. Many homes along the line of march were brilliantly illuminated, and red fires burning here and there made the streets as bright as day. As the procession marched up the street cheer upon cheer rent the air. Among the clubs in the line were the McNagny club from Columbia City, escorted by the Columbia City band; the Spy Run avenue club, the Democratic Soldiers' club, the East Side democratic club, and many other organizations.

There was a large gathering at the rink. Hon. J. H. Bass presided at the meeting. The first speaker was the Hon Wm. F. McNagny. He spoke at considerable length upon tariff and made a strong closing appeal to the laboring men of Fort Wayne. He was followed by Governor-elect Fishback, of Arkansas, who made one of the ablest speeches of the campaign. He confined himself almost entirely to the tariff and used the last census reports as the source of his information for democratic arguments, which were unanswerable. As a grand closing demonstration it was a success.

A FRIGHTFUL FALL.

John Young Falls a Distance of Fifty Feet.

He Receives an Electric Shock While at Work on a Mast in Nebraska —Other Accidents.

This morning, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, John H. Young, an employe of the Electric Light company, met with a frightful accident over in Nebraska. It is Young's duty to replace the burned carbons on the electric light towers. He had just completed this task at the tower on the corner of Main and Center streets and was descending the mast. When within about fifty feet of the ground he accidently caught hold of a live light wire, which runs into the Peters saw mill. This light is seldom charged during the day, but this morning was dark and the lights being turned on there was a strong current. Young received a fearful shock which caused him to loose his hold on the mast. He was thrown backward and fell to the hard ground below. He was rendered unconscious. Bystanders picked him up, thinking he was killed. The patrol wagon was hastily sent for and Drs. Stemen and McLain were soon in attendance. The unfortunate man was taken to the St. Joseph hospital, where an examination showed his injuries to be of a very serious nature. His right leg was fractured near the ankle, a number of small bones were broken in the left foot, his hip was badly hurt and his head bruised. It is also thought that he is hurt internally. The injurned man boarded on Elizabeth street and is unmarried.

OTHER ACCIDENTS.

This morning about 11:30 as Mr. and Mrs. Warren were driving inside some three miles out of the city on the Huntington road, were driving on West Main street, they were run down by an east bound Main street car. The buggy was up set and the occupants thrown violently to the ground. The horse was very docile and did not run. Mr. Farris managed to extricate himself from the wreck, but Mrs. Farris was rendered unconscious and had to be carried into a store. She soon revived, however, and it was found that neither had sustained dangerous injuries but that both were quite badly hurt. Mrs. Farris was hurt in the leg and shoulder and her husband's arm and hips were bruised. The buggy was almost totally demolished. Mr. Warren has a livery team and started for their home.

Edward Morrison, the machinist, this morning received the sad news that his son, Dan, a brakeman in the employ of the Wabash railway, had been badly hurt on the eastern part of the road. Mr. Morrison sent a telegram asking for particulars preparatory to going for his son. He was of the opinion that Dan was badly hurt.

This morning a Pennsylvania brakeman named A. Rest, while making a coupling at Warsaw, had his right arm caught between the deadwood and the engine and badly crushed. He was brought to this city, where Dr. Stemen attended him. Mr. Rest lives at No. 93 Chestnut street.

Dr. Stemen this morning stated that A. N. Brown, the switchman who was so badly hurt Saturday, was in a fair way to recover. His limbs are terribly bruised but are looking better today.

Henry Stahl, of Clear Creek township, Huntington county, while driving homeward in a light buggy, collided with a gravel train at the railway crossing, and he was hurled some distance away, striking against a fence. He is over seventy years old, but he escaped fatal hurt.

There is much political excitement at Columbus, growing out of the appearance of a circular, signed by the Columbus Manufacturing company, of which Joseph F. Glunt is the practical head; the Finney-Reeves Manufacturing company, individual members of Reeves & Co., the Reeves pulley works and W. W. Mooney, in effect that it is absolutely necessary for the future success of these concerns that Cleveland be elected.

Some Local Betting.

Several thousand dollars has already been placed on the election by Fort Wayne bettors this campaign, Cleveland at all times ranging as favorite. Odds are now 10 to 9 Harrison does not carry New York; 10 to 7 Cleveland carries Indiana; 10 to 10 Cleveland carries Indiana by 4,000, and even money Cleveland is elected. One prominent democrat offered to bet $10,000 Cleveland would carry New York and any amount he would be elected.

child of six or seven. She is a member of the famous Primrose league, made up of conservative English ladies. Both of her sisters married Englishmen also. One is Mrs. Moreton Freeman and the other Mrs. Jack Leslie.

Churchill's eldest brother, the Duke of Marlborough, married Mrs. Hammersley, also an American.

It is said that Randolph Churchill actually fell in love with the daughter of Leonard Jerome, when he saw her for the first time descending the stairs from the ladies dressing room at an evening reception. She was a bright, clever, young girl at the time, and has made him a good wife.

crossed with Miss Frances E. Willard, who has been spending some time abroad carrying on her aggressive temperance work.

The English reformer is milder and more persuasive in her methods than is Miss Willard, but she does not hesitate to bring her war directly into the enemy's camp. Much of her wonderful reformatory work has been done in the lowest London slums, where her fine presence and beautiful face, no less than her powers of organization and ability as a speaker, have brought a greater success than any other temperance woman can claim.

When asked about the encouragement she receives in the English temperance movement, she answered that the greatest difficulty she encounters is the large number of drunken irreclaimable women.

So dissipated are they, and so fully do they realize the depth of their degradation that it is impossible to reach them with a lasting aid.

HIGH LIVING, if you keep at it, is apt to tell upon the liver. The things to prevent this are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Take one of these little Pellets for a corrective or gentle laxative—three for a cathartic. They're the smallest, easiest to take, pleasantest and most natural in the way they act. They do permanent good. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headache, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured.

They're guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or your money is returned.

A MARVELOUS THROW.

A Lion Killed With a Stone After It Had Dragged the Victim Into Its Den.

In 1875 I obtained a furlough of a month, which, with three other friends, I meant to spend in a grand hunt in the great forest that lay within half a mile of the station where we were camped. I had been in India nearly a year, and was beginning to get tired of the inquiries that came in every letter from England as to whether I had yet killed a tiger. So now I resolved to kill one or know the reason why.

One day, a very hot one, that even in the forest nearly prostrated us, we were camped on the bank of the little river Hati, called the Nu, and toward the afternoon my friends proposed to take a swim in the stream. I was feeling rather unwell, so did not join them, relates a writer in the Globe-Democrat, but remained lying beneath the trees and dozing at intervals. Ram Hati went with the others and so I was left alone. I had dozed longer than usual, when I was awakened by feeling something warm and damp touch my hand, that was thrown out beside me. Opening my eyes, to my astonishment I saw a huge beast standing over me, snuffing at my clothes and limbs. "Here is my tiger at last," I said. But one glance at the creature's tawny skin, and at the splendid mane that swept the ground, told me that my visitor was not a tiger, but a lion, and a magnificent male at that. He was evidently trying to see if I was dead, for he kept sticking his nose in my face in a way that I might have found comical but for the gravity of the situation.

I continued to eye him through my half-shut lids, and hoped that he would presently decide to go away. But just here I heard the voices of my companions returning from their bath, and one—a light-headed subaltern—was singing some camp ballad at the top of his voice. The lion paused and listened, and then, in a sudden panic, sprang toward the jungle, and I was congratulating myself on this swift and pleasant termination of my adventure when the royal beast glanced back and our eyes met. He gave a roar and then leaped toward me, as if he meant to have me in defiance of the approaching enemy. I closed my eyes at once, but it was too late, and the next moment the lion had fastened his teeth in the sleeve of my coat and was dragging me after him into the thicket. There was no use struggling with the now frightened brute, who would turn and rend me in a moment, so I allowed him to carry me whither he would, for I did not doubt that my friends would be on his trail as soon as they missed me.

I helped myself all I could, for I found that if I lay inert that the effort of the animal to drag me over the undergrowth, thorns and fallen boughs would soon take away every inch of skin from off my body, so I assisted him all I could in getting myself over the obstacles without arousing his ire by being too active. In a few minutes he had reached a part of the woods entirely unfamiliar to me. It looked as if it had once been the scene of an earthquake or some violent behavior of some sort on the part of nature, for the ground was torn up in some spots as if by a giant plow, and in others rose heaps of rock that peeped out of a gash in the earth. Here the lion seemed to have its den, though it did not take me to it, but dropped me from sheer fatigue and fell some feet from me to rest, without, however, taking its eyes off me.

I glanced about me in hopes of seeing some escape from my captor, or in search of an idea for a weapon, but the only object that I saw, with the exception of some thorny shrubs, were heaps of sharp-pointed rocks varying in size from bowlders to smaller ones the size of turkey eggs. But these suggested nothing until the lion, evidently wearied unto death, began to yawn. As he turned to me his capacious jaws, blinking lazily as he stretched them, I seized the idea to which I will always believe I owed my life. The one accomplishment which I could lay claim to was that of throwing. I was the crack thrower of the regiment, and had often killed my bird on the wing.

This accomplishment was to stand me in good stead now, for gathering a stone about the size of a coffee cup I waited for the lion's next gape; and when I could see half way down the enormous red gullet I hurled my rock straight into it. With a smothered cry, that broke off into a gasp, the animal closed its jaws and tried to evacuate the obstruction from its throat. But my aim had been sure, and the stone lodged right in the gullet. The beast then sprang to its feet and began to paw the earth, and tried to roar. It spied me, and guessed at once the author of its misery. With a piteous attempt at avenging itself it flew toward me, but as I jumped aside, dreading its dying agony, the stone did its work, and the superb creature fell over, kicking and clawing in its struggle for breath. I could not help but pity it as it turned its bloodshot eyes on the rocks and forest where it would never more reign, and with a final defiance of death sprang into the air to fall back dead almost at my feet.

I started back to the camp, and about half-way met my friends coming to seek me. When they arrived at camp and found me missing they had not felt alarmed, thinking I had probably changed my mind about a bath and sought the nearest bend in the river. It was when my absence grew too prolonged to exclude the idea of this being the cause of my stay that they sought for some indications of the way I had gone. When I told them of having killed the lion the tale was laughed at, but prevailing on them to accompany me to the spot where I had left the carcass, they saw that I had spoken the truth. I have often been praised for my courage and presence of mind in this affair.

Simple Method of Removing Wrinkles

It is easier to remove wrinkles than to eradicate any other defect of the face and yet we daily see many faces, otherwise beautiful, rendered prematurely old by that shrinkage of the tissue we call wrinkles. A simple, but positive, treatment is Marquard's Rose Cream, which not only disperses wrinkles speedily but also removes pimples, blotches, eruptions and lends an exquisite glow and transparency to the complexion. VERY HUMOROUS.

How a Grand Duke of the Romanoff House Amused Himself.

One of the most amusing experiences was at the Russian court in 1858, says a writer in the Boston Transcript. The Grand Duke Constantine, lord high admiral of the navy, was defacto emperor. He controlled everything, being a man of brilliant attainments, speaking eight languages fluently, and taking the utmost interest in all matters pertaining to navigation. One day, when I was admitted to a private audience in the palace, he seemed to be in a particularly good humor, and made the remark to me quietly that he would presently "show me a little fun." The apartment to which I was admitted was very spacious, and opened by a door upon a garden where the ladies of the family were at the time amusing themselves. The only stranger present besides myself was likewise an American, who wished to show the grand duke a pump of his own invention for emptying vessels of water. He had his apparatus with him, including a tank of water, and was bidden to exhibit its manner of working on the spot. Expressing his readiness to obey he objected that he did not know what to do with the stream from the pump. "Just squirt it through that doorway," said the grand duke, suppressing a chuckle and pointing to the doorway opening into the garden. The inventor protested, knowing that the ladies were there, but the grand duke repeated his command with emphasis, so that there was nothing for him to do but comply. No sooner had he thrown the stream through the door than there was a chorus of feminine shrieks and immediately the ladies came rushing out, as thoroughly drenched as if they had been bathing with their clothes on—the grand duchess assailing her husband with a perfect torrent of objurgatory epithets. He roared with laughter and declared with tears in his eyes that it was all an accident, but she would not believe him, finally making her exit in a rage, whereupon the audience granted to myself and the man with the pump was proceeded with.

The Advertising

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is always within the bounds of reason because it is true; it always appeals to the sober, common sense of thinking people because it is true; and it is always fully substantiated by endorsements which, in the financial world, would be accepted without a moment's hesitation.

For a general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills.

The Pesky Porcupine.

Porcupines, which abound in the lumber woods of northwestern Pennsylvania, are great pests around the camps. They are passionately fond of salt, and should the four sides of the camp shanty be salted from ground to roof these little animals would eat it down over the very heads of the inmates and not leave a splinter of it to mark where it stood.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera, but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made." For sale by druggists.

A meeting of republican election officers was held yesterday in the headquarters of the county. An investigation showed that a large number of judges were not qualified to fill the positions, owing to the fact that they were not freeholders or householders. They resigned and their positions were filled today.

Rev. Reuben Gardiner, of Huntington, preached at the church four miles west on the Huntington road yesterday.

If there are any young men in the county whose twenty-first birthday falls on November 9, the day after election, they are entitled to vote on the eighth. Their twenty-first year will be completed on election day, and the beginning of the twenty-second is on the ninth.

Mr. M. S. Robison will go to Chicago Saturday to attend the annual meeting of the National base ball league. The meeting will be a most important one.

Look out for the traveling photograph swindler. He is making a tour of northern Indiana. He asks for twenty-five cents in advance, gives a receipt for the same, saying that he will be around in the morning and take one-half dozen cabinet photographs for the receipt, and that is the last you hear or see of your money or the tramp photographer.

A large crowd of young folks gathered at the home of William Schoch, Friday evening, to remind him that he was twenty-one years of age. Games of different kinds were played of which the "Tailless Donkey" was among the leading ones. The prizes were awarded to Lila Whortle and Edward Schoch. The young people left at an early hour each having enjoyed themselves to the utmost.

All was activity at the political headquarters yesterday in spite of the fact that it was Sunday. Early in the afternoon the republicans began sending buggies loaded with literature and circulars into the country. As soon as the democrats learned of this they also started numerous buggies loaded with democratic literature and circulars into the out townships. All day long politicians were busy.

A grand democratic rally, fire works display and pole-raising will occur tonight in Nebraska, at the corner of Cherry and West Main streets. Hon. Judge Stephen A Powers, of Angola; Hon. J. D. Sarmighausen and Hon. J. M. Robinson will address the citizens upon the political issues of the day. Hon. J. D. Sarmighausen will speak in German.

The administration, evidently beaten on the tariff issue, has rashly undertaken to force the issue of the federal control of elections. All the cabinet officers being off on the stump, this undertaking has been left to an acting attorney general, whose name has not been hitherto familiar to the country. He has rapidly making a name for himself by a series of orders or circulars that for reckless disregard of the constitution and the laws and the principles of free government, are quite unparalled. This Mr. Aldrich seems to be trying to show that no force bill could be much worse than the existing statutes as he interprets them. But he is supplying a strong additional argument for knocking this administration out.

A CLUE.

The Officers Have a Suspicion Who the Court House Fire Bug Is.

The attempt to set fire to the court house on Friday evening is the subject of conversation by every tongue. Sheriff Viberg and Chief Wilkinson were in consultation yesterday afternoon and made some important discoveries. It was learned that on Friday afternoon about half past 5 o'clock a short, heavy set man, about 35 or 40 years of age, with short, black chin whiskers and wearing a gray suit of clothes and a slouch hat, was seen in the clerk's office with no apparent business. When asked what he wanted he said he was waiting for a friend. Afterwards he went up stairs and about ten minutes later came down, went out the south door to Berry street, went east on Berry street to Calhoun, turned south on the west side of Calhoun until he reached no ninety, where he stopped and then went into L. O. Hull's paper store and bought a large bill of wall paper at prices so low that he thought he would paper his barn.

A Highly Prized Tea Set.

A Mr. Rittenhouse, of Waverly, Md., has an heirloom that is over two centuries old, and which has been handed down from generation to generation of the Rittenhouse family since 1678. It is a tea set composed of tea pot, water pot, coffee pot, cream pitcher, sugar bowl, tray and sugar tongs—all but the latter piece made of britannia ware. The first owner of the set was Claus Rittenhouse, in the seventeenth century.

The ladies of the Thimble club will be entertained tomorrow evening by Mrs. S. K. Blair.

Grace Miller entertained the S. G. S. club at her home, 15 Douglas avenue, Saturday afternoon.

Miss Carl Deitzer, who has been a visitor in the city for a few days, returned yesterday to Chicago.

Miss Agnes Seabrease entertained the young ladies of the West Side Sewing club Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. C. Hettler gave a delightful little company last evening in honor of her guest, Miss Ella Langston.

Mr. and Mrs. George Moses, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Randall, have returned to Huntington.

Miss Tillie Jacoby will give a masquerade farewell party at her home, No. 40 Buchanan street Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Heine celebrated their silver wedding anniversary yesterday. About forty guests were present to offer congratulations and partake of the good things provided.

Saturday afternoon a taffy pulling was given by Miss Grace Wilkins at her home on West Jefferson street and was much enjoyed by the young lady guests. They were Misses Mary, Clara and Lillian Bush, Alma Pengler, Leona and Maud Wilkins and Mabel Wilson.

Saturday was the anniversary of Master Quate Davis' birth and in the afternoon he invited a number of his little friends to help him celebrate the occasion. The little folks were royally entertained. The guests were Misses Edith Harding, Martha and Helen Hackett, Carlie and Margie Stapleford and Master Budd Swearingen.

Yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keeler, on Prospect avenue, the marriage of Miss Nellie Whitford and Mr. James W. Rohebaugh, both of this city, took place. The ceremony was performed by Pastor S. A. Northrop in the presence of a few friends and relatives. A dinner was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Rohebaugh will remain in this city.

An interesting meeting of the Woman's Reading club was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. B. Bond, in South Wayne. Papers were read by Mrs. G. E. Bursley and Mrs. Bond on the "Hyksos and Shepherd Kings" and the "Arts and Sciences of That Period." At this meeting white and gold were chosen as the colors of the club and a white carnation as the emblem. The club meets this week at the home of Mrs. Ed. Craw, on West Wayne street.

Saturday evening a surprise party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Graham, of 260 Webster street, in honor of Frank Allen. The earlier part of the evening was devoted to card playing and dancing. Later a nice little supper was served. Those present were Misses May Brudbury, Lida Koons, Emma Kulsely, Mary, Hofer, Alice and and Mary Stein, Gertie Lewis, E. smith and Messrs. Alonzo and Frank Cartaugh, Will Sheppard, Frank Allen, Herman Holopeter, Arthur Jones, Rob Bartho and James Bradbury.

A very pleasant tea was given last Friday afternoon, by Mrs. John Rohebee, of this east end. The following are the list of members of the Ladies Aid society, and a number of friends that were present: Rev. Bridge and wife, Mrs. W. Gronour, Mrs. Al. Barbier, Mrs. M. F. Gay, Mrs. Chas. Piepenbrink, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Piepenbrink, Mrs. Chas. Noble, Mrs. Roux, Mrs. Cotner, Mrs. Ossenbaugh, Mrs. Shireves, Mrs. Mollinger, Mrs. Ward, Misses Gusta Gronour and Edna Ward, Masters Willie Noble, Rolla Barbier, Karl Piepenbrink, Burt Smith and Albert Gronour.

Last Thursday evening Mr. Charles Parr was tendered a very pleasant surprise in honor of his fifty-second birthday. Those who helped to make the occasion a delightful one were Messrs. and Mesdames King, Frank Grubb, D. Hill, John Wefel, T. H. Kress, John Hess, Ed. Voirol, Martin Shele, Shephurst, Jop Sorg, Mrs Stadler, and Misses Minnie Hill, Celestia and Edna Voirol, Celia Parr, Eva Kress, and Messrs. Frank Hill, George Voirol, Arthur Shele, Fabian and Martin Kress. Music dancing and pedro were enjoyed until 11 o'clock, when lunch was served by Messrs. Parr and Voirol.

The sheet and pillow-case mum pedro party given Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Randall, in honor of the second anniversary of their wedding, was a most enjoyable event. The gentlemen should be applauded for their successful attempts to "hold their tongues." After several games had been played and sheets and pillow-cases discarded, a dainty lunch was served by the hostess. The guests were Misses Lizzie Arnold, of Huntington; Nancy Lee, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Luna Shelton, of Berlin, Wis.; Eva Nelson, Josephine Hartman, Messrs. and Mesdames W. A. Evans, Harry Metzger, and Messrs. W. W. Fay and Irwin Randall.

Saturday was the twentieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Grieble and in the evening they were given a complete surprise by several of their west side friends. An oyster supper had been prepared and at 8 o'clock they took possession of the Grieble mansion. The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames John Thieme, Charles Crail, E. H. McDonald, E. F. Yarnelle, J. K. McCracken and Mesdames Mayhew and Melschoimer and is scarcely necessary to say they had a merry time, or that the host and hostess equally enjoyed the occasion. A number of handsome presents were given them by their guests. The table was decorated by the ladies of the company with every shade of chrysanthemums, and the latest fashion of having no tablecloth observed, dollies being used for the glasses and plates. The ice cream was served from beautiful black china and small dishes of cinnamon drops, instead of the customary mint wafers, were at each plate.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS.

If you want to vote the straight democratic ticket, here is the way to stamp it:

Stamp in the square with the Rooster and NOWHERE ELSE.

See that the ink where you stamped is dry before you fold your ticket.

Read these official instructions:

If the voter wishes any information as to the manner of voting he may ask the poll clerks.

There are two ballot boxes and two ballots to be voted. One ballot-box is painted red and is for the state ballot, which ballot is on red paper; the other ballot box is painted white and is for the county ticket, which ticket is on white paper.

The voter enters the room, tells the poll clerks his name, the clerks give him two ballots to be voted and a stamp [the stamp is a little stick with a rubber on the end of it]; the voter goes alone into one of the booths with the two ballots and the stamp; in the booth on a little shelf he will find an ink pad (this is a cloth saturated with ink); the voter touches the ink pad with the stamp and then stamps his ballot. Let the ballots dry before folding.

After stamping his ballots and the ink has become dry, the voter then folds each ballot separately before leaving the booth; he must fold them so that no one can see how he has voted, and so that the initials or first letters of the poll clerks' names can be seen on the backs of the ballots; he then goes and gives the stamp back to the clerks, a d hands the two ballots to the inspector; then he leaves the room

After the voter comes out of the booth into the room he must be careful not to let any one see the inside of his ballots; if he exposes his ballot so that it can be known how he votes, his ballot will be rejected.

If the voter cannot read English, or is blind, or is physically unable to stamp his ballots, he has a right to call on the poll clerks to stamp his ballots for him; this must be done in his presence and in the pesence of both poll clerks.

The voter must vote, the ballots given him by the poll clerks, and none other.

The voter must not put any mark or sign on his bal ots; if he does his vote will not be counted.

If by accident he blots his ballot in stamping it, or makes a mistake, or him return the ballot, folded, to the poll clerks and get another.

If you want to vote a STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET, stamp within the BIG SQUARE containing the rooster, at the top of the ticket. If you stamp within the big square you must not stamp anywhere else on the ticket or you will lose your vote.

You must not mark on the ballot with anything but the stamp. You must not stamp except on the squares. If you accidently stamp off a square return your ballot to the poll clerks and get a new one.

You must fold your ballot before coming out of the booth, so that the face will not show and the initials of the poll clerks on the back will show.

If you want to vote a STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET, stamp the big square containing the rooster at the top of the ticket.

If you do not want to vote for all the candidates on any one ticket, but some on one and some on another, then you MUST NOT stamp the large square at the head of the ticket, but stamp the small square opposite each candidate you want to vote for.

Stamp the ROOSTER ONCE and you are sure your ballot is counted. 512

Stamp the ROOSTER ONCE and you are sure your ballot is counted. 512

If you must vote a mixed ticket stamp the little square in front of every man you want to vote for, but DON'T STAMP THE ROOSTER. 512

If you are determined not to vote a straight democratic ticket then don't stamp the square containing the rooster, but stamp the small square opposite every candidate you desire to vote for.

The iron Moulders will give their third annual ball this evening, at Schroeder's hall.

If you must vote a mixed ticket stamp the little square in front of every man you want to vote for, but DON'T STAMP THE ROOSTER. 512

Pasturage.

For a limited number of horses and colts, with plenty feed, water and stable room during the winter, on the E. M. Powers farm, four miles from the city on the Huntington road. For particulars, call at the Bus barn. 3 6t

To be sure that you know how to vote call at Randall Hall between 7 and 10 p. m. and try the Australian ballot. 512

Attention Democrats.

"Mock elections" will be held every evening from 7 to 10 o'clock, at Randall Hall. All democrats who desire to try the Australian ballot and get such information as will guarantee that their ballot is correct, are requested to attend.

The iron Moulders will give their third annual ball this evening, at Schroeder's hall.

Voting under the Amended Law is so simple that a child five years old could vote without making a mistake. Anyone can stamp the rooster. That is all that is required except that you must fold your ticket. 512

If you stamp the Rooster TWICE you lose your vote. 512

To be sure that you know how to vote CALL AT Randall Hall between 7 and 10 p. m. and try the Australian Ballot. 512

The iron Moulders will give their third annual ball this evening, at Schroeder's hall.

If you don't know how to vote ask a TRUE DEMOCRAT for advice. 512

Homeopathy.

In 1825 there was but one homeopathic physician in this country. To-day 25,000 physicians are enrolled under the banner of Hahnemann. In 1886 the first homeopathic college in the world was incorporated, issuing diplomas to sixteen physicians in six years. Now there are sixteen such colleges, graduating annually 500 students.

DID THE PELICAN COUNT.

The Story Told of a Fisherman's Intelligent Pet.

Bouzan de la Haie tells of a pelican living in a fisherman's family at Santo Domingo that fed upon the refuse of the fish cleaning. Every week day it would go to the shore looking for the food which the boats were sure to bring in. Now the owner of this pet pelican, although a rough fisherman was of a pious turn of mind and always observed Sabbath. The pelican was not long in learning this and the fact that he was unwillingly made to observe a forced fast every seventh day. Within a very short time he had such a clear idea of the regular return of the day that he would sit motionless all day on Sunday on a tree near the house without once attempting to go to the beach for his daily allowance of refuse trimmings. Mme. Royer in commenting on this remarkable exhibition of reasoning faculties in a bird, says:

"It is not necessary to suppose that the pelican had learned to count the six days, at the end of which time its master would not go fishing; but, while it really estimated daily, the time when it must make its excursion to the beach. It was informed of the return of Sunday by what was going on at the house, as for an instance, the fishermen putting on their Sunday clothes. In the same way a dog knows when his master is ready to start on a hunt by seeing him with gun and game bag.

"In such instances animals show that they have the faculty of associating ideas and of observing consecutive facts. Thus they show that they are capable of establishing correlative connections between things which demonstrates not less intelligence than actual acquaintance with the six or ten signs which express the first six or ten numbers, or the use of a system of enumeration to express larger numbers."
